

PENNSYLVANIA FUEL SECTOR EMERGENCY PLANNING EXERCISE

10:00 AM – 1:30 PM on October 11, 2023
The Hotel Hershey (100 Hotel Rd, Hershey, PA 17033)

Overview

The Pennsylvania Petroleum Association and Pennsylvania Propane Gas Association will be hosting a mock emergency planning exercise on October 11, 2023. The exercise will be facilitated by our state agency partners for the purpose of strengthening the Pennsylvania State Energy Security Plan (SESP). Other stakeholders who rely on the interdependency of liquid fuels throughout the Commonwealth will also participate in the exercise. We hope you can participate in the exercise which strengthens the important public-private partnership.

Operation Christmas Lights Out: Energy Emergency Exercise

It's the festive holiday season and bitter cold has lingered in Pennsylvania and the Northeastern United States for the past several days. Dropping temperatures are predicted over the holiday while the electric grid operator is projecting record breaking usage. How will fuel companies provide for their customers as temperatures continue to drop? Join us as we delve into this mock scenario and try to prevent a Christmas Lights Out.

Who Should Attend

Participating associations would like to ensure all segments of the fuel industry are represented as a part of the exercise. Proposed representation would include: Heating Fuel & Propane Marketers, Motor Fuel Distributors, Retail Gasoline Stations, Common Carriers, Fuel Wholesalers, Terminal Operators, Pipeline Operators, Refiners/Producers, and Alternative Fuel Stakeholders.

EVENT REGISTRATION

Please visit the event website to learn more about the exercise and register online. Space will be limited for the event.
